2014 Anne Amie Twelve Oaks Estate
Chehalem Mountains AVA Pinot Noir

This wine was aged 16 months in French oak barrels and 12 months in bottle, prior to release. "...an upfront and quite bold bouquet in the making with black cherry, red plum and cassis scents that show more vigor than the 2013. The palate is medium-bodied with grainy tannin, good backbone, a little earthiness coming through with a grainy texture on the structured, "cool" finish that is nicely detailed. It should be worth seeking out."
